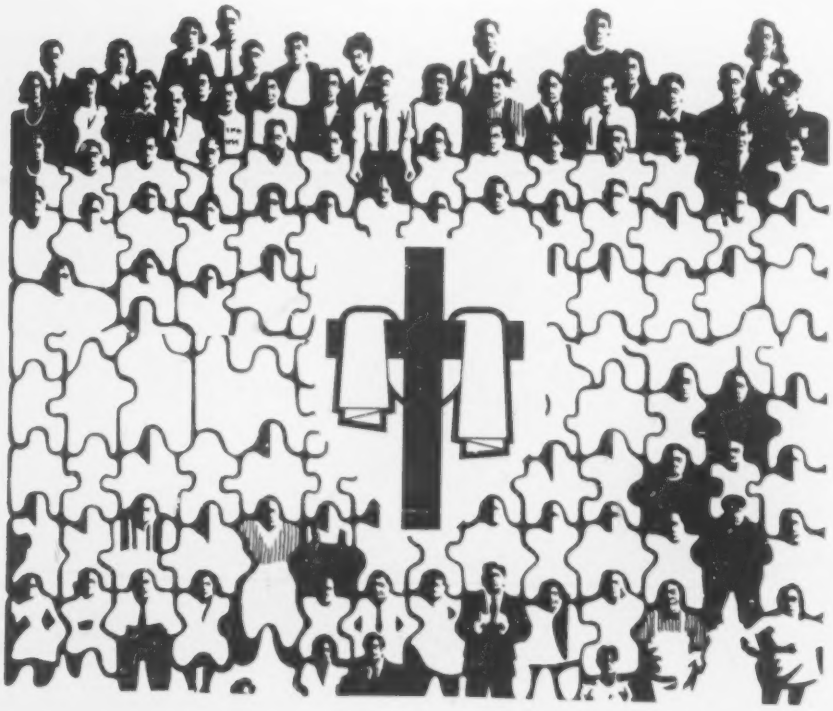
INTRODUCTION

In 1987 Catholic Charities agencies provided services to over 7 million individuals and almost 2 million families. Over 200,000 people contributed to Catholic Charities service and advocacy efforts. Income and in-kind contributions totalled over $800,000,000.

The findings contained in this report document the breadth and depth of activities and services offered by Catholic Charities agencies. These services include preventative services such as education and support as well as direct mental health services such as counseling and direct emergency services such as housing and food.

Besides direct services Catholic Charities agencies fulfill the role as an advocate for justice in society. This is indicated by the extensiveness of its legislative and community development activities.

The data contained in this report are taken from the responses of 136 agency directors. This represents a response rate of 85%. Although the number of diocesean agencies reporting in 1987 is greater than 1986 the number of institutions affiliated with Catholic Charities reporting to the 1987 survey is lower. This accounts for the lower numbers of individuals and family served reported in 1987 as compared with 1986.



I. PERSONNEL

In 1987, 226,721 individuals contributed services through the 136 reporting Catholic Charities agencies. This includes paid staff, volunteers and board members. The vast majority of these are volunteers (76%), followed by paid staff (18%) and board members (6%).

Of the 40,194 paid staff, 64% are professional or paraprofessional service deliverers, 10% are managerial, 16% are clerical or support staff and 10% are reported as "other."

Overall the percentage of paid staff who are minority is 32%. This represents an increase of 5% over 1986 and an increase of 11% over 1985. Over 40% of the paraprofessional service staff and 25% of the professional service staff are reported as being minority. Overall one-third (33%) of the service delivery staff are minority. Approximately one-fifth (18%) of the managerial staff are minority. However, fewer than 2% of the executive directors are minority. Over one-fifth (28%) of the clerical staff are minority and 40% of the custodial staff are minority.

Two-thirds of the paid staff are women (66%). Over 80% of the clerical staff are women and two-thirds (67%) of the service delivery staff are women. One-fourth (16%) of the managerial staff are women with 19% of the agencies reporting women as executive directors.

The total number of volunteers in 1987 was 173,358 a 21% increase in the number reported in 1986. Of these 43% were agency volunteers and 57% were parish level volunteers. Over 50% of the volunteers have direct contact with clients and 60% are specially trained for their volunteer service. Of the total number of volunteers 16% are minority and 53% are women.

The agencies report a total of 7,398 corporate board members in 1987. Of these 13% are minority and 37% are women. In addition to the corporate board members the agencies report the 5,771 individuals served on advisory and/or professional review boards.

III. SOCIAL SERVICES

In 1987 Catholic Charities agencies provided services to over 7 million individuals and almost 2 million families. The services include:

- Counseling Services
- Pregnancy Services
- Adoption Services
- Refugee/Immigration Services
- Education Services
- Socialization Services
- Food Services
- Emergency/Crisis Services
- Support Services
- Housing Services
- Out of Home Care Services

Table III.1 contains the data on the number of children, adults, aging persons and families who were recipients of services. Over 2 million children, almost 4 million adults and over 1 million aging persons were served by Catholic Charities agencies. A total of 1,998,861 families were served. The largest number of individuals and families were the recipients of emergency/crisis and food services.

Overall the numbers reported in 1987 are lower than those reported in the 1986 Annual Survey. This may be accounted for by the fewer institutional affiliates reporting in 1987 and the fact that a few larger diocesean agencies who reported in 1986 did not report in 1987. Although the actual numbers may be lower the pattern of responses is similar to those reported in past years.

Counseling is the service provided by the greatest number of Catholic Charities agencies. The number of individuals who received counseling services was 725,667. The number of families who received counseling services was 217,527.

Education services such as family life education, marriage preparation, values clarification and education for social justice were provided to 710,521 individuals and 117,690 families.

Support services were provided to 675,294 individuals and 173,907 families. These services range from child and adult day care to providing the necessary assistance to keep families intact or the support needed to keep a person in the community.

Socialization services, which reflect work done in senior centers, neighborhood centers, and other group settings, are provided mainly to youth and the elderly. A total of 616,670 individuals and 39,768 families were recipients of these services.

Refugee resettlement and immigration services were provided to 229,482 individuals and 81,830 families.

Care outside of the home may be necessary for either a brief period or a long duration. A total o 91,894 individuals and 23,476 families were served through the provision of round-the-clock care.

Over 100,000 individuals and over 40,000 families received pregnancy and adoption services. These include such services as medical care, material assistance, housing, adoption placement and services to adult adoptees.

IV. ACTIVITIES

SOCIAL ACTION: HUMANIZING AND TRANSFORMING THE SOCIAL ORDER

In 1987, the issues which received the most attention from Catholic Charities agencies in the area of legislative action were:

- Family Issues
- Refugees/Immigration
- The Economy
- Housing/Homelessness
- Hunger/Nutrition

Community organizing efforts most often centered around:

- Housing/Homelessness
- Hunger/Nutrition
- Family Issues
- The Economy
- Refugees/Immigration

Agencies were involved in convening the Christian Community on a large number of topics, but priority issues in 1987 were:

- Family Issues
- Housing/Homelessness
- The Economy
- Refugees/Immigration
- Hunger/Nutrition

The issues most often addressed at the Parish level were:

- Refugees/Immigration
- Family Issues
- The Economy
- Abortion
- Housing/Homelessness
- Hunger/Nutrition

In 1987, 85% of the agencies report that they were involved in influencing public policy development and/or implementation. Over half of the dioceses report that they participated on governmental commissions or committees on the local level (60%) and the state level (50%).

Only 14% report that they participated on governmental commissions or committees on the national level. Two-thirds of the agencies report that they offered consultation to public officials at the local level (68%) and at the state level (66%). Over one-third report that they offered consultation to public officials at the national level (39%). Over 40% of the agencies report that they participated in the development or revision of regulations at the local level (42%), over half (57%) at the state level and 15% at the national level. Approximately 80% of the agencies report that their efforts at influencing public policy implementation at the local (29%) and state level (80%) are done in collaboration with other social service agencies. Over one-third report collaborative efforts at the national level (39%).

Over half (55%) of the agencies report that they were involved in maintaining or developing community programs. In 1987 the largest number of agencies report being involved in housing corporations and cooperative organizations.

ADVOCACY EFFORTS

In 1987 Catholic Charities agencies report being involved in advocacy efforts on behalf of a large number of vulnerable and/or disenfranchised people. The largest number of agencies report legislative advocacy efforts for:

- Children
- Refugees/Immigrants/Migrants
- Homeless Persons
- Welfare Recipients
- The Economically Disadvantaged
- Aged Persons

Catholic Charities agencies provided, sponsored or managed 61,570 units of housing in 1987.

V. PARISH SOCIAL MINISTRY

In 1987, 65 diocesean agencies or 48% of all reporting agencies have a Parish Social Ministry Program. Table V.1 contains data which reflects the extent of Parish Social Ministry. Fifty seven agencies report that they sponsor Parish Social Ministry in 2,523 parishes. Another 39 agencies report that Parish Social Ministry is occurring in 1,395 parishes not affiliated with the agency program. Overall the respondents report that Parish Social Ministry is occurring in 3,918 parishes. This represents an increase of 379 parishes over that reported in 1986.

The majority of the agencies which report having Parish Social Ministry report that their programs involve both direct service and social action.

Of the 65 diocesean agencies who have Parish Social Ministry, 60% report that they have a full-time director assigned to the program and 30% report that they have a part-time director assigned to the program. Thirty-two agencies report that they have 137 full-time staff assigned to Parish Social Ministry and 54 agencies report that they have 208 part-time staff assigned to Parish Social Ministry. Forty-four agencies report hat 1,162 parish staff are involved in non-agency sponsored Parish Social Ministry.

The services provided in a parish setting by over one-third of the reporting agenceis are:

- Counseling
- Education
- Emergency/Crisis

The issues addressed in a parish setting by over one-third of the reporting agencies are:

- Family Life
- Economic
- Refugees/Immigration
